Bulletin 182

Suntag has many new lures

Infotag Australia has moved forward in many ways to improve the service we provide. The database has been upgraded to Infotag 2012 and new websites established for our major projects being Suntag, CapReef, Crystal Bowl, Rocky Barra Bounty and King Ash Bay. Go to www.info-fish.net to access each website.

Some new or improved features include:

- Taggers can access their own tag records (read only) through the Suntag website
- Taggers can load their fishing trip/tagging details to the database through the Suntag website
- Time sequences of tagging in an area can now be viewed in Google Earth
- Improved reporting of recaptures through the websites
- Tag and recapture certificates can now be sent by email and printed by the recipient
- Suntag replaces Qld Sportfishers for individuals to join Suntag
- New resources for taggers to make it easier to get at information
- Barramundi stocks in the Fitzroy River have been predicted for 2012 and 2013
- Facebook pages have been established for each project

Tag and Recapture Certificate
This certificate is awarded for the contribution to our knowledge of fish in Australia to
